BROCKTON WOMAN SENTENCED TO JAIL ON GUN AND DRUG CHARGES

BROCKTON – Plymouth County District Attorney Timothy J. Cruz has announced that a Brockton woman has been convicted and sent to State Prison on gun and drug charges.

Nadia Ribeiro (DOB: 10/25/84) was found guilty on July 10th after a two-day bench trial of one count each of Trafficking over 200 grams of a Class B Substance (Cocaine), Unlawful Possession of a Firearm, Unlawful Possession of Ammunition and Possession with Intent to Distribute a Class D Substance (Marijuana).

In December 2011, while working an investigation into a drug distribution network in Brockton, the Massachusetts State Police Gang Unit obtained a warrant for an apartment at 70 Oak Street Extension. Police seized more than 1000 grams of cocaine, a .40 Caliber Glock Handgun, loaded with 9 rounds of ammunition, and multiple rounds of loose ammunition. Police additionally seized more than ¾ of a pound of marijuana, four digital scales and a box cutter knife from the apartment.

Plymouth Superior Court Judge Cornelius J. Moriarty sentenced Ribeiro to serve 12 years to 12 years and a day in State Prison on the cocaine trafficking charge. Judge Moriarty sentenced Ribeiro to serve two years in the House of Corrections to be served concurrently on the firearm, ammunition and marijuana charges.

The State Police Gang Unit, Brockton Police and an agent from the FBI investigated the case. The Plymouth County District Attorney's Office prosecuted the case.
